

Dublin, Nov. 24. 1840

My dear Friend

I enclose you have De la Rue's invoice of the pamphlet sent to you last week and my statement of up to the present date - by which you will observe that you are something in my debt. Whether De la Rue will take up to the large discount I don't know - if they do, I must only charge you with the difference. I sent some articles (read since I wrote last) to Cork today. This box will sail for Liverpool tomorrow from there on the 2nd of December. I hope you may have a good time at H. Wright and to say that your letter concerning may not be too much felt -

Yours ever truly

Rich^d Webb
